

ALASCA

Verband für betriebsfähige, offene Cloud-Infrastrukturen e.V.

Contribution Rules of ALASCA - Association for Operational Open Cloud Infrastructures e.V.

The ALASCA - Association for Operational Open Cloud Infrastructures e.V. shall levy contributions from its ordinary members (hereinafter clause 1) and from its supporting members (hereinafter clause 2) as of the contribution year 2022 in accordance with these Contribution Rules.

The aforementioned members are obligated to pay fees to the Association in accordance with § 6 of the Statutes. The annual membership fees are based on the type of membership:

1. Ordinary Members

Ordinary members (according to § 3 para. 1 of the Statutes) pay an annual membership fee. This fee is due in advance on January 15 of each year. For members joining during the course of the calendar year, the membership fee is based on the number of months remaining in the calendar year (including the month of joining) (§ 6 para. 1 of the Statutes).

For natural persons a fixed membership fee of 100 Euro/year is provided.

For legal entities, the membership fee is based on the number of employees as follows:

Company < 10 Employees	200 Euro/year
Company < 50 Employees	500 Euro/year
Company < 250 Employees	1,500 Euro/year
250 Employees and more	5,000 Euro/year

The membership fee is a basic contribution and may be supplemented by voluntary contributions determined by the member.

2. Supporting Members

Supporting members (according to § 3 para. 7 of the Statutes) can support the association with a contribution, the amount of which can be freely chosen by the member. Supporting members may participate in the General Meeting according to § 5 para. 1, but have no right to vote or to be elected.

Entry into force

The Contribution Rules shall come into force upon their adoption by the General Meeting on 2022-09-29.